

DIXIE CHICKS TOUGH CHICKS

Applause
October 2006

Table of Contents

There is no doubt that the Dixie Chicks are talented. They have nine Grammy Awards, nine Country Music Association Awards, three Academy of Country Music Awards, two American Music Awards, two Diamond Award Albums and a People's Choice Award to back up the hype. Their upcoming "Accidents and Accusations" tour is just another road leading them through their successful journey. These controversial darlings of country music and rock 'n' roll have achieved their success and notoriety not only as performers, but through their many other roles as well.

They are guitarists, mandolinists, banjoists, fiddlers, harmonizers, singers, songwriters, fashionistas, sisters and mothers. They are strong, independent, lively, controversial, outspoken, adventurous, and romantic. These characteristics have seen them through success and setbacks, political controversy and Grammy nods. They took a touring hiatus in 2003 and – three years and five children later – they are back on the road.

Come witness their return as they electrify the Frank Erwin Center on December 15.
